CLIMATE CONDITION

In Cyprus, there are about 300—340 sunny days per year, and this is the only European country where the sea is warm and suitable for swimming, even in November. The average air temperature in winter is +13...15°C, and in summer it is +30...36°C.

The island has a rich history reflected in its ancient sites, fine Byzantine churches, monasteries, and museums. There are three UNESCO World Heritage sites, and 11 more objects are on the UNESCO Tentative list.

Cyprus also features incredible flora and fauna and is a great place for hiking.

AVERAGE SALARY

The average salary in Cyprus often reflects the economic situation on the island, combining influences from both local and international markets. As of recent years, the average monthly salary in Cyprus is generally between €1,800 and €2,200.

This amount represents the gross income before taxes and social security contributions are deducted. The private sector tends to offer slightly higher wages than the public sector, excluding certain high-ranking government positions. It's important to note that the average monthly salary can vary significantly based on the industry, individual qualifications, work experience, and the specific region of Cyprus.

CYPRUS PASSPORT RANKING

The Cypriot passport is currently ranked 16th place on the Guide Passport Index. It provides visa-free access to 178 countries. With a high mobility score it is one of the highest-ranking passports in the world. Cypriot passport holders have visa-free access and visas on arrival to countries such as United Kingdom, United Arab Emirates, Japan and the entire European Union. This allows almost instant travel opportunities worldwide. Cypriot passport holders do however require a visa to enter about 52 destinations in the world. Some countries where a visa is required are China, India and the United States.
